Ashif Mawji Selected as an Executive Pro to Know on SDC's 2008 Listing

Upside Software's Ashif Mawji Selected as a 2008 Supply & Demand Chain Executive Pro to Know

EDMONTON, ALBERTA, CANADA —Upside Software Inc. announced that its President and CEO, Ashif Mawji, has been selected as a 2008 Supply & Demand Chain Executive Pro to Know. This award recognizes individuals from a software company, service provider, or analyst/research firm who have personally helped their clients achieve 21st century supply & demand chain success through technology and improved processes. Recipients of this honor are scheduled to be featured in the February/March 2008 issue of Supply & Demand Chain Executive.

"I am very pleased to be included on this prestigious list," said Mawji. "The team at Upside Software is dedicated to improving our clients' business processes in the 21st century. I anticipate that the business environment of the future will be driven largely by the ability of technology providers to adapt to dynamic market conditions while providing superior customer service. Upside has had great success with our Fortune 500 clients in delivering tangible benefits to improve their supply & demand chain procedures."

Supply & Demand Chain Executive honors leaders in three different categories: Supply & Demand Chain Executive Practitioner Pros to Know, Supply & Demand Chain Executive Practitioner Pros to Know – Team Submission and the Supply & Demand Chain Executive Provider Pros to Know. Individuals and companies were chosen by a Supply & Demand Chain Executive selection committee.

Nominees in the Supply & Demand Chain Executive Provider Pros to Know category were asked to describe their vision of the supply chain in the 21st century, the role of technology in enabling supply chain functions, and how they have helped clients implement improvements and guide them towards their vision.
