Upside Software Announces Major Release: UpsideContract V6

Upside Software's Version 6 Announced – Groundbreaking R&D Based on Over 200 Customers' Input

EDMONTON, ALBERTA, CANADA —Upside Software Inc., a global leader in enterprise contract management software, has announced the availability of UpsideContract Version 6.0, a major release for its award-winning software.

“The creation of our Version 6.0 has been an exciting and challenging but also a very rewarding process,” said Ashif Mawji, President and CEO, Upside Software. He added, “The ideas in this release come directly from over 200 customers, most of them industry leaders and experts in contract management. We are indeed very fortunate to have customers who are innovative and leaders in pushing technology to gain the highest levels of efficiency. Our Version 6.0 offers a new look and feel with a robust contract management platform that can ease the most complex contracting processes you can throw at it.”

Some of the innovations offered in UpsideContract Version 6.0 include:

- Cleaner look and feel with more user configurable options
- Cross-browser support and still zero footprint
- Improved performance leveraging AJAX in appropriate areas
- Single-click paradigm – where possible, one click provides you with the results
- Increased search options and advanced query functionality
- URL-based navigation
