Upside Software Announces 2008 Annual User Conference

Upside Software's Annual User Conference attracts its global and diverse customer base to discuss today's hottest contract management topics

EDMONTON, ALBERTA, CANADA—Upside Software, the global leader in Contract Lifecycle Management software announced today the dates and location for their 2008 Annual User Conference. The three-day event will be held from September 10th to September 12th, 2008 at Upside Software's headquarters located in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada.

Upside Software's Annual User Conference provides customers with a great opportunity to hear first-hand how users from diverse industries are using Upside Software's products within their business processes. Attendees will have an opportunity to share and receive feedback, present new ideas, and hear from Upside Software regarding planned improvements to products and future product direction.

The User Conference is a three-day event, featuring keynote presentations from valued customers and analysts, as well as interactive presentations from Upside Software. The agenda includes customer case studies, best practice discussions, and demonstrations of Upside Software's latest product versions as well as sneak peeks into upcoming groundbreaking innovation from Upside Software. Educational training sessions and roundtable discussions are part of the highly anticipated agenda.

"Our customers have been very supportive of the Annual User Conference in past years," said Ashif Mawji, Upside Software's President and CEO. "The team at Upside is dedicated to continual improvement to our solutions and services and is excited to present the recent release of UpsideContract V6."
