UpsideContract V6.2 Poised to Offer Users Leading Edge New Functionality

Upside Software Inc., the global leader in enterprise contract management software, has announced the release of UpsideContract Version 6.2, an enhancement for its award-winning software.

Upside Software has been adding new customers at an incredible rate and growth has been tremendous. The current market has elevated the need for efficiency while increasing governance and accountability, and as such, UpsideContract, which is the leading contract lifecycle management solution available, is in extremely high demand across organizations of all sizes and industries.

“The team at Upside has been working very hard to develop the latest version of UpsideContract based on feedback and suggestions from our customers,” said Ashif Mawji, CEO, Upside Software. “With V6.2, we wanted to deliver an even more intuitive solution that enables users to select options that best fit their individual business preferences. The application has been enhanced in several key areas including enriched new click-to-accept functionality, workflow, added security including redacting, guided playbook wizard, and document creation/versioning.”

Enhancements to UpsideContract V6.2 include:

- Ability to copy and paste workflow steps as well as restart the workflow process
- Option to clear historic document versions
- Full compatibility with Microsoft Word® 2007 and Docx format
- ‘Click to Accept’ functionality
- Greater placeholder organization capabilities
- New Wizard feature to guide users through document creation (i.e. based on playbook)
